Current Responsibility

Rick Arnheim is a senior consulting actuary at Milliman's Indianapolis Health Practice.

Professional Work Experience

Since 2008, he has consulted to life sciences companies. Rick has developed an expertise in designing data-driven solutions that leverage industry-leading syndicated data in the pharmaceutical space. His primary area of focus is quantifying the impact of payer-driven influences on pharmaceutical sales (e.g. formulary coverage, patient cost sharing) and informing strategies that may improve performance.
